1 Settlement Class Counsel submit this statement pursuant to the Court's request in the 2 Amended Order Granting Preliminary Approval of Settlement [Dkt. 1698] for additional 3 information regarding Settlement Class Counsel's prospective request for attorneys' fees.

4 Under the Court's and Settlement Master Mueller's active guidance, the parties to this 5 class action achieved a historic resolution that will: (1) get over 475,000 polluting 2.0-liter cars
6 fixed or off the road; (2) pay up to $10.033 billion in cash to Class Members; and (3) remediate
7 the environmental damage caused by Volkswagen, all in a short period of time unheard-of in 8 modern complex litigation. Settlement Class Counsel did not achieve these results on their own.
9 This was a team effort from the start, and the members of the parallel litigation and settlement
10 teams included the Department of Justice on behalf of the Environmental Protection Agency; the 11 Federal Trade Commission; the California Attorney General's office on behalf of CARB, and 12 other government entities.

13 The Settlement Agreement requires Volkswagen to pay Settlement Class Counsel's 14 reasonable fees and costs in addition to Class Members' settlement benefits. This means that 15 regardless of the amount of fees the Court decides to award Settlement Class Counsel, Class 16 Members' settlement benefits and payments will not be reduced by one cent.

17 Settlement Class Counsel have not yet filed an application for attorneys' fees; they will do 18 so in connection with final approval and under Rule 23(h). Volkswagen and Settlement Class 19 Counsel have reached no agreement on fees; any future agreement—or lack thereof—will be 20 reflected in the application, which will nonetheless be subject to the Court's independent 21 determination and award. Various media reports, in guessing at the fee request, have noted
22 formulas used by courts in other large class settlements and speculated that Settlement Class
23 Counsel's fee request might be as high as $3.5 billion, given the prevailing percentage fee 24 methodology and judicially established benchmarks of 25% and higher. But this is not an 25 ordinary case, this is not an ordinary settlement, and this will not be an ordinary fee request.

26 In recognition of the joint efforts of Settlement Class Counsel and the government 27 plaintiffs, and notwithstanding the size of the fund available to Class Members and the 28 challenging circumstances under which this settlement was negotiated and achieved, Settlement

1 Class Counsel's common benefit fee application will seek no more than $324 million in 2 attorneys' fees, plus actual and reasonable out-of-pocket costs, not to exceed $8.5 million. This 3 fee application will cover all work performed by the 22 Court-appointed Settlement Class
4 Counsel firms and the additional counsel designated to perform common benefit work, and all 5 expenses incurred through October 18, 2016, the date of the Final Approval Hearing. Because 6 the $10.033 billion Funding Pool commitment obtained by the Settlement is easily quantified, as 7 are Class Members' individual payments, the application, as to this "capped" amount, will utilize 8 the percentage methodology approved by the Ninth Circuit for class action settlement fee awards, 9 albeit at an amount far below the 25% benchmark established by the Ninth Circuit. See In re
10 Bluetooth Headset Prods. Liab. Litig., 654 F.3d 935, 942 (9th Cir. 2011); Vizcaino v. Microsoft
11 Corp., 290 F.3d 1043, 1047-48 (9th Cir. 2002).

12 Since the parties filed the settlement documents with the Court on June 28, 2016, Class
13 Members have inundated Settlement Class Counsel with requests for information and questions 14 about the settlement. The class settlement, by its terms, is designed to provide consumers with 15 choices and options throughout the settlement program. These choices are important to Class 16 Members, and they often require a detailed discussion with attorneys and/or paralegals who are 17 well-versed in the settlement's terms and procedures. Many of these conversations have required
18 a lawyer or paralegal to spend 30-60 minutes on the telephone speaking to a single Class 19 Member. Class Members deserve this level of attention when they are making decisions of 20 important financial and practical impact to their lives. This settlement involves real decisions 21 about real cars, and real time must be spent by counsel to guide and assist consumers through the 22 process. The numbers of such calls and other communications from the hundreds of thousands of 23 Class Members are likely to increase significantly after the settlement becomes operational (if the 24 Court grants final approval), and, as settlement implementation continues through the close of 25 2018, substantial time and effort will be spent to ensure that Class Members are treated fairly in 26 the process and receive their benefits expeditiously as their fix or buyback choices and decisions 27 make this settlement's goals a reality.

28 Accordingly, to meet their obligations to their Class Member clients and the Court, as well

1 as to defend and promote the settlement itself, Settlement Class Counsel will continue to incur
2 time and expenses. To address this reality fairly, Settlement Class Counsel's Rule 23(b)/common 3 benefit fee application will include a proposed formula, such as the equivalent of a small 4 percentage of payments made to Class Members, for the Court's consideration as reasonable and 5 appropriate compensation for the settlement-related common benefit work to occur after the final 6 approval hearing.
